

Field notes of a connecting line from N.E. Cor. 44 Block A Texas Central
Ry Co. to S.E. cor. of Sur. No. 1 J & G. N. Ry Co.
(Towards Well Sur)

Beginning at a st. Md. in Ravine near
N. bank of a drain capped by a stone mild N.E. 44 A. Both original section bearings are standing but the nearest one is dead.

Thence ³⁸⁹⁴ West 1920 v2 an old st. Md.
on S. side of a branch or drain in a Hollow, this st. Md. is evidently original NW. Cor. Sur 44.

Thence South at 780 v2 Branch 1900 is a st. Md. (old) fits description of original

Thence South 1894 v2 a st. Md. (old)

Thence East 1659 v2 to W line of Sur.
180 Block O. - G.H. & S.A. Ry Co. -

Thence North 63 v2 to NW. Cor. 180.

Begin again at NW. Cor. 44 Block
A. Tex. Central Ry Co.

Thence West 1911 v2 to an old st. Md.
in small Ravine, probably original corner

Thence North 1900 v2 I made a st. Md.

" West 1900 " " " " " "

" West 1900 " " " " " "

" North 1900 " " " " " Small st. Md.

on S. side of Big Ravine

Thence West 3800 v2 made a small
st. Md. in Canon near its head.

Thence West 2054 v2 to ^{East?} W. line of No.
3. J & G. N. Ry Co.

Sur 9 1/4 E

Thence North (on $90^{\circ}30'E$) 574 $\frac{1}{2}$ to an Iron Pipe ∇ St. Md. at N.E. cor. of said Sur. No. 3 Thence West 1900 $\frac{1}{2}$, (on $94^{\circ}E$), to an Iron Pipe ∇ St. Md. at S.E. cor. of Sur. No. 1 Howard's Well Sur.) Stumps of original bearings are standing.

Remarks.

There is not the slightest doubt that Block A. Texas Central Ry Co. was surveyed on the ground with out any connection with the Howard
Well Survey. The S.W. cor. of No. 1 B.K.
A. should coincide with S.E. cor. of Sur. No. 3. I & G. N. Ry Co. according to its original calls. The S.W. cor. of
No. 1 B.K. A. calls for head of a canon.
The S.E. cor. of No. 3 I & G. N. Ry Co. is on a plateau. The connection of N.E. cor.
Block 44 A. T. C. Ry Co. ∇ N.W. corner of 180 B.K.O. G.H. ∇ S.A. is not exactly correct as given in sketch of B.K.O.
by me, in 1889, as on a random
line was run and never checked or verified.

I do hereby that the above and surveying field notes are correct and that the survey was made on the ground in March 1900.

Geo. M. Williams
State Surveyor

This April 23rd 1900.

Remarks

The approximate distance between
N. line of Block L4. Tex Central Ry Co.
and S. line of Block A. Tex Central Ry Co. is about 1060 vs I did not get an E & West connection.

Ozona, Texas, Sept 5th 1906.

I herewith send you a sketch of parts of sections 29, 30 & 31. University Survey, and U.V., W.X, Y, Z. Smith Co. Bl¹⁴ 31 U.S. conflicts (or rather U.V. conflicts Bl¹⁴ 31. U.S., 300 vs. and the 2. Alexander Survey about Schmidt and part of the D.H. Cade are out. There has never been any question about the line of the N. line of the University, 4 different surveys in 10 years, by different Surveyors, have all agreed exactly. The only point that has been disputed is the stone md at the N.E. 36. Bl¹⁴ 31 University, is in the original corner. It is there however 18 miles East of the stone md at the N.W. 6 Bl 29. My line agreeing closely with the same line surveyed by W.C. Taylor of Tom Green Co 5 years since it is claimed that Taylor made the stone md at N.E 36 Bl 31.

I am very truly
