IN THE COUNTY COURT OF WEBB COUNTY,
TEXAS, APRIL 14, 1943.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the County Court of Webb County, Texas, that there exists uncertainty as to the location of the boundary line between Webb and Dimmit Counties, in that the line is not sufficiently definite and well defined and marked upon the ground, causing great confusion in determining the location of surveys alleged to border on, or to be cut by said boundary line, as to whether such surveys, or parts of said surveys are in one county or the other for the purpose of the assessment and collection of taxes thereon, and such confusion should be eliminated and said county line better defined and marked upon the ground; and the Commissioners' Court of Webb County having requested this County Court to act herein as is provided by law with reference to the boundaries of counties; therefore, I, M. J. Raymond, Judge of the County Court of Webb County, do hereby appoint E. J. Foster, County Surveyor of Webb County, who is an experienced, competent and practical surveyor, to actually survey and ascertain the true boundary line as now existing between Webb and Dimmit Counties, and to make and establish the lines and corners of the surveys affected by said county line, and to mark said line in the manner provided by Articles 1583 and 1584 of our Revised Statutes as herein described.
