The Routing and Controlling of Traveling Salesmen Systematized

... By the Rand-McNally
Mercantile Recording System

MANUFACTURING and jobbing houses have always found the successful management of their agents and traveling men a most complex and difficult problem. This is due in no small measure to the natural disposition of salesmen to trespass upon each other's territory, particularly where towns of considerable importance are situated in close proximity to the dividing line.

In addition to this, and of still greater importance, is the manner in which salesmen (if not carefully and constantly watched) will skip the less promising towns in their field in order to reach the larger places.

While such tactics may result in a larger volume of business in a limited time, they can not in the end succeed, because they leave the territory only partially worked, while no commensurate saving in transportation or other expenses is effected.

These and other evils of a like nature well known to every manager are important factors in the problem, and the only means of overcoming them is to replace the complicated and inadequate methods generally employed, in the sales department with a simpler and more effective system.

The Rand-McNally Mercantile Recording System is an appliance specially designed to meet these requirements. With it the boundaries of agents' and traveling men's territories are so plainly marked with colored cords as to render confusion impossible. Every town to be visited is indicated by a tack of a color to represent the salesman in whose territory it is located, thus each man is confined to his own field and unless he visits every town indicated the fact is at once revealed to the operator of the system.

GOLDFIELD

BY
ELMER J. CHUTE, E. M.

Mr. Chute has lived in Goldfield since shortly after gold was discovered, four years ago, and has made many of the official surveys for the location of the claims. In the preparation of his map he has had the suggestions and assistance of deputy mineral surveyors of the district, and he presents an accurate and official map which shows the U. S. Patent and Location surveys of the developed sections of Esmeralda and Nye Counties, Nevada. Size 44x57 inches, large scale, 1000 feet to the inch. Printed in colors, fully indexed, showing accurately the claims of all the mining companies, and locating them on the map.

Published in three editions:

Half mounted, printed on heavy paper, with edges bound with tape, price $5.00.

Full mounted, printed on heavy paper, backed with cloth, and provided with common rollers on top and bottom to hang on the wall, price $7.50.

Pocket form, showing same details as large wall map, but on smaller scale, complete index size 28x35 inches, folded, and bound in a stiff manila cover, price $1.00.

The Latest and Best Bridge Book is

CORRECT BRIDGE

CONTAINING THE LAWS OF BRIDGE,
ILLUSTRATED HANDS, AND ALL THE PRINCIPLES OF THE GAME

By M. S. HESS

A NECESSARY BOOK FOR THE BEGINNER AND A REFERENCE WORK FOR THE EXPERIENCED PLAYER

The most popular and fascinating card game of the present day is "Bridge." There is, perhaps, no other game at which the instructed and skillful player will derive a greater advantage from his superiority than he will at "Bridge." To become a successful player one must know the relative value of each card in his hand and must comprehend the proper declaration of trump, the best card to lead, the opportune time to finesse, the hand in which to unblock, the combining of the dummy hand with his own, and the many other essential points that are constantly arising. All the instructions necessary to make one a successful player are contained in

San Domingo and Haiti

Rand, McNally & Company have just completed from drawings prepared by General Casimiro N. De Moya, the engraving and printing of a new map of the above named countries. All of the information is from official sources and compiled from the most recent surveys.

The map is printed in seven colors, is accurate and complete in all details, and is the first official map of these republics printed since 1870. It shows all cities, villages, departments, railroads, islands, lakes, rivers, etc., also the boundary line established by the Dominican-Haitian Commission constituted in 1901, as well as former disputed frontier lines.

FATHER TOM OF CONNEMARA

BY ELIZABETH O'REILY
NEVILLE

Illustrated Cloth, 12mo Retail, $1.50

Wit, humor, and pathos are depicted in these sketches of Irish character with a forcefulness that clearly demonstrates the author's familiarity with her subject. These stories are not fiction. They are founded on fact and many of the characters described are still acting their parts in the drama of life. Father Tom was a typical Irish priest, with a heart large enough to encompass all the joys and sorrows of his extensive parish. He was the guiding star of his flock. He officiated at the wakes, weddings, and christenings, participated in all celebrations, and by his wise counsels and wide-spread beneficence entwined himself with everlasting bonds of sympathy in the affection of his people. The other characters are equally interesting, and all the varied customs and habits of those dwelling within the bounds of Connemara are set forth in a vivid and truthful manner.

One of the most instructive features of these stories is the reproduction of the various dialects spoken throughout the Island. Mrs. Neville, through long intercourse with the people of both the North and South of Ireland, became thoroughly familiar with the various kinds of pronunciation and follows them very closely in her work.

THE NEW HAMLET

By William
Hawley
Smith

"Bound in Boards" Retail, 50 cents

THE MOST ORIGINAL, UNIQUE,
UP-TO-DATE, AND ALTOGETHER
OUT-OF-THE-ORDINARY BOOK
OF THE SEASON. ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

The plays of "Hamlet" and "Romeo and Juliet" have been cleverly interwoven, with all the tragic element in both left out. Hamlet marries Juliet and Romeo is wedded to Ophelia. The style of the work is genuinely Shakespearean, at once scholarly and racy. The dialogue is brimful of humor, satire, quips, and gibes of the most modern kind, and yet there is not a line in it that would make the judicious grieve. It is a book that "all sorts and conditions of men" (and women, too) will read and laugh over.

The make-up of the book is in keeping with all the rest. It is printed on manila paper and is literally bound in boards, the covers being No. 2 fencing, and the whole tied together with binding twine.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale, of Boston, says of it:

"I will not pretend to tell how much I enjoyed 'The New Hamlet'—the new and the old play. We have all laughed and laughed over it, and have taken moral and practical lessons from it."

Dr. A. E. Winship, Editor Journal of Education, Boston, Mass., says:

"My first delight on arriving home from a twelve-thousand-mile trip was one long hearty laugh, one of the all-over fits of laughter, over 'The New Hamlet' by Shakespearesmith. It is great from cover to cover."

The Squirrel and the Crow

By
W. H.
Neidlinger

Pictures by Walter
Bobbett

Illustrated. Boards, Cloth Back. Retail, 50 cents.

“The Squirrel and the Crow” is just the kind of a story that will amuse the children. * * * What boy or girl has not at one time played at going to school? Here is a sedate crow who has a class of scholars consisting of Miss Squirrel, Mr. Mole, Mr. Bullfrog, and others, and the pranks these mischief-makers play upon their poor teacher finally drive him to seek shelter in a far-away wood. Incorporated in the story are some charming child songs, for which Mr. Neidlinger is so well known, and the accompanying drawings of Mr. Bobbett artistically illustrate the story, and serve to bring a fuller appreciation of their meaning to the youthful mind.
